

ADDIS ABABA SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY UNIVERSITY

1. BACKGROUND

Addis Ababa science and technology university is one of the two science and technology universities established with special mission and consideration during the first growth and transformation plan (GTP I:2003/2007 E.C). The university was constituted by Ethiopian Council of Ministers proclamation number 216/2003 E.C by admitting 2000 first batch students in November 2011 G.C and was accountable to FDRE Ministry of education.

Currently, the university has enrolled more than 7000 undergraduate (under regular and continuing education program) and close to 1000 postgraduate students under its three applied sciences, technology, engineering and ICT focused colleges. The university is also working hard to accredit its engineering and applied science programs based on Washington Accord and Abet requirements, respectively.
